

June 11, 2007

People

Amy Long and Gregory Tansey have joined Riverlake Partners as vice presidents. Long previously was a vice president of commercial banking with LaSalle Bank in Chicago, while Tansey was a principal with SmartForest Venture.

Compiled by Dan Primack

The Changing Scene

BYLINE: Editorial Staff

Riverlake Partners

Portland, Ore.-based PE firm Riverlake hired Amy Long and Gregory Tansey as VPs. The pair were brought on board to help target leveraged control investments in smaller companies and in high-growth industries.

Previously, Long had been a first VP of commercial banking at LaSalle Bank in Chicago, and Tansey had been a principal at SmartForest Ventures, an early-stage venture fund focused on IT investments in the Pacific Northwest.

June 4, 2007

Riverlake boosts staff; People briefs

Amy Long and Gregory Tansey have joined Riverlake Partners as vice presidents. Long previously was a VP of commercial banking with LaSalle Bank in Chicago, while Tansey was a principal with SmartForest Venture.

--PE Week staff